

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

A new and distinct cultivar of New Guinea Impatiens plant named 'Balcelichey' substantially, as herein shown and described, which:

1. Exhibits large round red-colored flowers,
- 5 2. Forms dark green-colored foliage,
3. Exhibits a good basal branching character, and
4. Exhibits a medium upright, mounded growth habit.